6. Commerce Road preparation for second application. Chris Breslin (ISIS) and colleagues explained (see his notes/attached) that Isis had purchased the site from BW, appointed Paul Velluet to make a Conservation Appraisal and were intending to appoint Master Plan Consultants in April followed by architects in the summer looking towards a planning application in November. Isis agreed that the Water Space Strategy should be prepared before the Master Plan. Reference was also made to the Strategy including water frontages down to Kew Bridge, but it was not clear how this might be done.

BCC suggested that consultation should continue with us and on line with residents affected with one or two public meetings. Consultations should be timed before the successive decisions were finalised so there was time for the applicants to review their proposals in the light of the comments they received.
